

Harrow: Heart land

'There are a good schools and a good mix of culture's and faiths in many of them'

'The best thing about Harrow, is its' sense of community, it is truly multicultural.'

Urban centres, a multicultural mix, diverse villages and neighbourhoods – Harrow abounds in contrasts, the next decade will see growth transform the borough

Some numbers:

54% of Harrow's residents are married, the highest level in London

Two-thirds of Harrow's residents own – or are buying – their own home
Harrow is the 12th largest borough by area

88% of all Harrow pupils achieved Key Stage 2 Level 4 and above in English in 2012, above the national and London averages of 86% and 87%

The average age of Harrow residents is 36 years

Nationally Harrow is recognised as an enterprise hotspot

'It's a great place to live and it's a great place to work.'